A BEAUTIFUL WEDDING

The Fisher-Moore Nuptials at the First Presbyterian

WAS SOLEMNIZED AT HIGH NOON

Beautiful Flowers, Exquisite Music and Pretty Maidens Enhance the Beauty of the Occasion—Mr. and Mrs. Fisher Leave This Evening For the East.

One of the prettiest weddings ever solemnized in the city was that at the First Presbyterian church, at high noon today, the contracting parties being Mr. Otis George Fisher, wire chief, Western Union Telegraph company, of Cleveland, and Miss Anna McConaughy, the accomplished daughter of Mr. Elder D. Moore, cashier of the Knowles, Taylor and Knowles company.

The officiating minister was Rev. John Lloyd Lee, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, of which the bride and family are members, assisted by Thomas B. Anderson, pastor of the Presbyterian church at Rochester, Pa., and who years ago administered the rite of baptism to the bride.

The wedding party consisted of Miss Mary B. Rodgers, of Brilliant, who was a classmate of the bride at Washington Female seminary, maid of honor; Misses Mary Logan Moore and Frances Clark Moore, bridesmaids; the little Misses Laura Ross Moore and Margaret Brown Moore, flower girls. The bridesmaids and flower girls are sisters of the bride. The page was Master Robert Martin Brookes, son of Jason H. Brookes; Mr. Tracy Williams, of Cleveland, best man; Sanford E. Fisher, of this city, Mr. Will C. Whitten, Cleveland, and George C. Heisler, city, ushers; Miss Laura M. Moore, of Wilkinsburg, a cousin of the bride, pianist.

The first four rows of pews in the church were reserved for the immediate relatives of the bride and groom, and a few of the intimate friends, who were invited to the reception at the home of the bride. Mr. James Shaw received the guests at the western vestibule of the church, directing them to the ushers, while the beautiful nocturne by Erik Meyer filled the church, rendered in an admirable manner by the pianist.

The bridal procession formed in the following manner, to the familiar strains of Lohengrin's wedding march: West aisle, Messrs. Fisher, Whitten and Heisler, ushers; Robert Brookes, page, bearing on a silver tray the plain gold ring, followed by the groom and best man. East aisle, the flower girls, Misses Laura and Margaret Moore, dressed in snowy white silk, bearing a daintily arranged basket, draped with smilax, containing pink and white carnations; bridesmaids, Misses Mary and Frances Moore, the former attired in a pink gown, bearing on her right arm a bridal wreath of smilax and carrying a bouquet of pink roses, the latter being similarly attired in robes' egg blue, bearing a bridal wreath of smilax and carrying a bouquet of yellow roses; maid of honor, Miss Rodgers, beautifully dressed in pure white, carrying a large bouquet of white roses, and then, just at the opportune moment, the strains from Lohengrin announced the bride in the wedding march, which is sometimes sung,

"Here comes the bride,
With the groom by her side."

The bride came in leaning on her father's arm, attired in faile silk, with a long train, the waist plain and tight fitting, with duchesse lace garniture, a long white veil fastened by a diamond pin, the gift of the groom, and tastily arranged orange blossoms. The bridal bouquet was composed of lilies of the valley.

After the words which made Mr. Fisher and Miss Moore man and wife, the party proceeded up the west aisle to the music of Mendelssohn's wedding march. The page, Master Brookes, gracefully escorted little Miss Margaret, carrying the basket for her while she strewed the pathway with flowers, followed by Mr. and Mrs. Fisher. Then came the maid of honor, accompanied by the best man, followed by the sisters of the bride, Misses Mary, Francis and Laura, accompanied by Messrs. Fisher, Whitten and Heisler respectively. Then up the east aisle came the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Elder D. Moore, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Jason H. Brookes, who assisted them in the reception.

A reception was given at the home of the bride immediately after the ceremony, which was largely attended, and many were the congratulations and well wishes showered upon the happy couple. The wedding breakfast was given at the residence of Jason H. Brookes.

Mr. and Mrs. Fisher leave this evening for a trip to the east, and will be at home to friends at 203 Bell avenue, Cleveland, after June 1.

The NEWS REVIEW joins with the many friends of the newly married couple in wishing them years of happiness and marital bliss.

SAME OLD CHESTNUT.

They Are Working the Racket Hourly With Age.

There are certain men in our city at present who will do well to be careful in the conduct of their business, else the hand of the law may clutch them in its embrace. A lady entered complaint this morning against them, stating that they had come to her home and persuaded her to let them have a picture of her father and mother, asserting that they wanted it for the purpose of showing the elegant work they could turn out in crayon. The lady finally gave them the picture, and a short time afterward they returned and showed her a proof, asking what class of frame they should furnish. She informed them that her circumstances would not justify her in the expenditure of money, and they then refused to return the original picture. The lady told a male friend the story, and accompanied him to the room occupied by the travelers, where a stern demand for the property convinced the peregrinators that they were treading on dangerous ground, and they returned the property. Keep your weather eye open for such customers.

BOARD OF IMPROVEMENTS

Adopt a Resolution to Lay Sidewalks on Lisbon Road.

The board of improvements held a meeting in the mayor's office last night, with all members present, and talked over various improvements that are now being made in the city, and many contemplated ones. The only resolution that was adopted was one to lay sidewalks on Lisbon road, from Eighth street to the bend of the road at the top of the hill. This would be a great improvement for the West End, and council would do well to pass it, as the residents in that section of the city are deserving of some improvements. Should Jethro street be paved from the Horre switch to the school house in West End, and this resolution pass, the people in that section of the city will be fairly well cared for in the paving line.

NOT THE CYCLER.

George H. Hale Has no Intention of Taking Into Himself a Partner.

George H. Hale, the cyclist, called at the NEWS REVIEW this morning and stated that the item published in a local paper last evening to the effect that he and a lady from Wellsville were about to take upon themselves the joys and sorrows of married life, was untrue. He knows no lady by the name of Tipton, and the statement that she was his partner on the tandem last year is news to him. George has his eye on a Beaver maiden, and fears he will have a time explaining to her the mistake. The contracting parties, according to a special yesterday, are from Wellsville, although inquiry at that sleepy village failed to reveal any couple of that name.

WILL ARRIVE EARLY.

To Give the Artist Ample Time to Decorate It.

The car that will be decorated for the St. Louis trip will arrive here three days previous to the time for starting, in order that the decorator will have plenty of time to do the work. It will be an old day coach, and the person making the decorations will have the liberty of doing with it as he pleases. The other five cars will be decorated with streamers, and will arrive here on the day the party will start. The committee received a list of a dozen names from Lisbon parties yesterday who will take in the trip, and have prospects of receiving at least 30 more within the next four days. The trip has taken a decided boom in the last few days, as many people are coming to the front.

TO BE INSPECTED.

The Ford City Went to Pittsburgh For That Purpose.

The Ford City, the boat that tows away the barges of sand and dirt taken from the bottom of the river by the dredge boat, went to Pittsburgh yesterday afternoon to undergo inspection. She will return this afternoon and will tow the barges and dredge boat to the other side of the river at the point of location for the last pier.

LOTS OF BUSINESS LAST NIGHT

A Harmonious Meeting and Many Things Acted Upon—The Secretary's Bond Accepted—Numerous Communications Received.

The meeting of the board of education last night was, unlike many of its predecessors, characterized by harmony. There was plenty of business to be acted upon, and the board rushed it through with neatness and dispatch. Mr. Stevenson was called upon and opened the meeting with prayer. The minutes of the last meeting were read and adopted. The committee that was appointed to call a special election for the issuance of bonds reported progress, and explained that it was necessary to go into a thorough and complete investigation of the matter before a final report could be made. They also recommended that more members be appointed to serve on this committee in order that an accurate plan of procedure be obtained.

The clerk, who was the speaker, also added that in the issuance of bonds by former boards, some difficulty had been occasioned by an improper method adopted, with the above object in view. He thought that two members should be added to the committee.

Mr. McClain then moved that report of the committee be received and adopted as recommended. This motion carried.

Communications were read by Clerk Norris, received from a Chicago firm, who wished to purchase bonds. This, and other communications from those who wished to take the school census, were laid over until another meeting night.

A communication from George A. Hasson making application for a position on the board of examiners was then read, and Mrs. Whitehead following, presented the name of Mrs. Dr. Ikirt as a candidate for the same position. The former has had six years experience as a school teacher, and the latter has eclipsed the record of Mr. Hasson by four years. It was evident that both were qualified to serve, and Mr. Nickle in moving that both applications be received, stated that at a previous evening he had proposed Doctor Toot as a candidate for the position, he would, at the latter gentleman's request, withdraw his name. After a few eulogizing remarks by the admirers of the respective candidates, and an interrogation by Mr. Vodrey, who wished to know if ladies were eligible to serve, and assurance being given him that they were, the board proceeded to ballot for a choice. The result of the contest was, for Mr. Hasson, three; Mrs. Ikirt, five; the latter getting the nomination, which was virtually getting the coveted position. The roll was called, and then the election of Mrs. Ikirt made unanimous.

A written request from Teachers Updegraph and McVay was received and read, stating that, as there was a debt of $200 yet unpaid on the piano, the proceeds accruing from the commencement exercises in the opera house this season, be used in liquidating this debt, instead of being applied to the library fund, as formerly.

Stevenson—I move that the communication be received and the request complied with.

Nickle—in voting for this matter, will the board involve themselves in any difficulty?

Professor Sanor assured the board that such action was legitimate, and under the jurisdiction of the board. The motion then carried.

A bill from Snowden Bros., for $4.50 for work done about the new furnaces, was laid on the table pending an investigation. On motion it was also decided to appoint a committee to look into the bill of the Unionist, and report at the next meeting.

Mr. Vodrey then announced that the school teachers had requested that the board supply them with Bibles to read from.

Mr. Stevenson moved that this be done. Mr. Sanor explained that the teachers were almost a unit in requesting that the board furnish Bibles, and had asked the superintendent to announce their wish to the board. The question was balloted upon, and all voted yes except Clerk Norris, who stated that he voted no because he deemed that such action was unnecessary, and to a certain extent he attributed the action of some of the teachers to a spirit of contrariness.

Mrs. Whitehead remarked that had it been her, she would have furnished her own Bible.

Nickle thought that, as the term of school was almost over, the board should defer buying Bibles until the opening of the fall term. He would be in favor of lending them books.

Mr. McClain—I don't think that it is right to ask the Catholic teachers to buy Bibles.

Mrs. Whitehead said that she thought that the American Tract society would furnish them free.

The acceptance of the bond of the secretary was then considered and received. The following names were attached: Will Reed, James Norris, Alex McBane and J. M. Kelley. Members Vodrey and McClain were appointed a committee to wait upon the city treasurer and secure his bond.

The superintendent announced that at a future meeting he would have something to present to the board of education. A few suggestions on various topics were given, and a request made that the committee on the election for bonds compile a complete account of the school expenses. The meeting then adjourned.

More Kind Words For America's Next President.

If Speaker Reed has induced the house ways and means committee not to attempt the re-enactment of the reciprocity features of the McKinley law in the fear that to do so would aid the Ohio man's candidacy, he is making a grave mistake, and is more likely to help than hurt McKinley. Business men want reciprocity and they will favor any candidate who is favorable to any plan by which American trade can be extended and made profitable Ohio State Journal.

The unanimity of Republican sentiment in this state in favor of the Ohio candidate for the presidential nomination seems to warrant the conclusion that Michigan's delegation of 28 will be solid for McKinley in the St. Louis convention. If this should prove a false reckoning it will be because of a changed aspect between now and then.—Detroit Journal.

Anti-McKinley journals are claiming that the defeat of Senator Sherman's attempt to reopen the tariff question was a slap at the Ohio candidate. Of the four Republican's voting for Mr. Sherman's motion, Mr. Allison is a presidential candidate and Messrs. Teller and Wolcott are radically opposed to Major McKinley.—Youngstown Telegram.

Few think the Sandwich islands or Cuba will be annexed to the United States in time for Grosvenor to claim they're for McKinley.—Philadelphia Times.

A "McKinley and Reed" ticket would give the cartoonists an excellent opportunity to ring the charges on "Napoleon and the Czar."—Toledo Blade.

AFTER MANY YEARS

A Former Resident of This City Returns and Calls on Friends.

After an absence of many years, James W. Blakely, a former resident of this city, who left this place in 1860, bound for the west, returned here yesterday to call upon the friends and acquaintances of his youth.

Mr. Blakely is engaged in business in St. Louis. His father, John S. Blakely, who has been dead for a number of years, was well known around this section of the country, as he was postmaster of this city for some time. The gentleman was amazed at the growth of the city, and expressed his approval at the industry and progressiveness apparent on every hand. He will only be here a short time, his visit being merely a desire to see the home of his youth.

CORNICE FELL.

Part of the Ruins of the Metch Mill Gives Way.

About 5:30 o'clock last evening the northeastern cornice of the ruins of the Metch mill collapsed and fell with a loud crash to the ground. Several spectators were standing near and had a narrow escape from being struck by the falling timbers.

During the greater part of the day, former employes of the mill were engaged in removing grain from the ruin, directly on the spot where the falling timbers struck. Fortunately at the time of the accident no one was at work in the mill, thus escaping the liability of danger to life and limb that they would have been subjected to had they been present.

A Young Lisbon Man Is Arrested on a Charge

PREFERRED BY A DOMESTIC

And Files a Bond In the Sum of $500. An Action to Recover on a Promissory Note—Administrators Appointed—Other Court News.

Lisbon, April 28.—The papers were filed in court last evening which bound Harry Springer, the son of Robert Springer, of this place, over to the court in the sum of $500, to answer to a delicate charge preferred by Miss Bridget Cosgrove, of Leetonia. The young woman had been employed as a domestic at a local residence and is now in the county infirmary.

Abram Hartley, Salineville, has filed an action in court against William H. and Eliza Gould to recover on two promissory notes the sum of $582. A mortgage on a small tract of land in Salineville secures the amount, and Hartley asks the sale of the property.

Enoch Elden was appointed administrator of the late George Buckley, of Liverpool township, and gave bond in the sum of $3,000. Thomas Arbuckle, William Anderson and William Nelson were appointed appraisers.

In the estate of William McCullough, John J. Purinton was appointed administrator with $2,000 bond. William Kent, John Horwell and John Peake were appointed appraisers.

A marriage license was issued to Ann C. Powell and Ira C. Yates.

Five Leaders of the Reform Committee Condemned to Die.

Special to the NEWS REVIEW.

LONDON, April 28.—Joseph Chamberlain announced in the house of commons today that the five leaders of the reform committee of Johannesburg, J. H. Hammond, Francis Rhodes, George Farrar, Lionel Phillips and Charles Leonard have been condemned to death. Chamberlain at once telegraphed Hercules Robinson to inform President Kruger that the British government expected him to commute the sentences. In government circles this is looked upon as a threat and the people are greatly excited.

ORGANIZED A LEAGUE.

The Local Prohibitionists Met Last Night.

The local Prohibitionists met last night in the Ferguson & Hill block and organized a league. A large number of the party were present and an enjoyable time had by all. A permanent organization was effected and a constitution and bylaws adopted, but the election of officers was left until the next meeting night, J. L. Swan acting as chairman last night, and Charles F. Bough, secretary. It is the purpose of the organization to meet every two weeks, and the next meeting will be held Thursday week. Addresses were made by Reverends Huffer and Whitehead, and J. C. McClain, and the organization starts under the most flattering prospects.

A PECULIAR CASE.

A Fly Crawls in an Infant's Ear and Causes Her Illness.

A few days ago, Pauline, the infant daughter of E. A. Stevenson, the East End school board member, was noticed to be suffering with a bealed ear, but no cause could be assigned for it. Yesterday a black substance was noticed protruding from the child's ear, and when it was removed it was found to be the head and body of a fly. A part of the insect, it is thought, is still imbedded in the ear. It is supposed that the fly crawled in while the child was sleeping.

John Martin was brought before the mayor yesterday afternoon and fined $6.00 for being drunk on the ferryboat. He had the sum on his clothes and handed it over to the mayor, who is a staunch advocate of reciprocity, and in turn was given his freedom.

Cyrus Huntsen was brought before his honor this afternoon on a like charge and was asked to donate $6.75 for use of the city. Not having the wherewith he was returned to his cell.

A BEAUTIFUL WEDDING

The Fisher-Moore Nuptials at the First Presbyterian

WAS SOLEMNIZED AT HIGH NOON

Beautiful Flowers, Exquisite Music and Pretty Maidens Enhance the Beauty of the Occasion—Mr. and Mrs. Fisher Leave This Evening For the East.

One of the prettiest weddings ever solemnized in the city was that at the First Presbyterian church, at high noon today, the contracting parties being Mr. Otis George Fisher, wire chief, Western Union Telegraph company, of Cleveland, and Miss Anna McConaughy, the accomplished daughter of Mr. Elder D. Moore, cashier of the Knowles, Taylor and Knowles company.

The officiating minister was Rev. John Lloyd Lee, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, of which the bride and family are members, assisted by Thomas B. Anderson, pastor of the Presbyterian church at Rochester, Pa., and who years ago administered the rite of baptism to the bride.

The wedding party consisted of Miss Mary B. Rodgers, of Brilliant, who was a classmate of the bride at Washington Female seminary, maid of honor; Misses Mary Logan Moore and Frances Clark Moore, bridesmaids; the little Misses Laura Ross Moore and Margaret Brown Moore, flower girls. The bridesmaids and flower girls are sisters of the bride. The page was Master Robert Martin Brookes, son of Jason H. Brookes; Mr. Tracy Williams, of Cleveland, best man; Sanford E. Fisher, of this city, Mr. Will C. Whitten, Cleveland, and George C. Heisler, city, ushers; Miss Laura M. Moore, of Wilkesburg, a cousin of the bride, pianist.

The first four rows of pews in the church were reserved for the immediate relatives of the bride and groom, and a few of the intimate friends, who were invited to the reception at the home of the bride. Mr. James Shaw received the guests at the western vestibule of the church, directing them to the ushers, while the beautiful nocturne by Erik Meyer filled the church, rendered in an admirable manner by the pianist.

The bridal procession formed in the following manner, to the familiar strains of Lohengrin's wedding march: West aisle, Messrs. Fisher, Whitten and Heisler, ushers; Robert Brookes, page, bearing on a silver tray the plain gold ring, followed by the groom and best man. East aisle, the flower girls, Misses Laura and Margaret Moore, dressed in snowy white silk, bearing a daintily arranged basket, draped with smilax, containing pink and white carnations; bridesmaids, Misses Mary and Frances Moore, the former attired in a pink gown, bearing on her right arm a bridal wreath of smilax and carrying a bouquet of pink roses, the latter being similarly attired in robins' egg blue, bearing a bridal wreath of yellow blue and carrying a bouquet of yellow roses; maid of honor, Miss Rodgers, beautifully dressed in pure white, carrying a large bouquet of white roses, and then, just at the opportune moment, the strains from Lohengrin announced the bride in the wedding march, which is sometimes sung,

"Here comes the bride,
With the groom by her side."

The bride came in leaning on her father's arm, attired in fall silk, with a long train, the waist plain and tight fitting, with duchesse lace garniture, a long white veil fastened by a diamond pin, the gift of the groom, and tastily arranged orange blossoms. The bridal bouquet was composed of lilies of the valley.

After the words which made Mr. Fisher and Miss Moore man and wife, the party proceeded up the west aisle to the music of Mendelssohn's wedding march. The page, Master Brookes, gracefully escorted little Miss Margaret, carrying the basket for her while she strewed the pathway with flowers, followed by Mr. and Mrs. Fisher. Then came the maid of honor, accompanied by the best man, followed by the sisters of the bride, Misses Mary, Francis and Laura, accompanied by Messrs. Fisher, Whitten and Heisler respectively. Then up the east aisle came the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Elder D. Moore, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Jason H. Brookes, who assisted them in the reception.

A reception was given at the home of the bride immediately after the ceremony, which was largely attended, and many were the congratulations and well wishes showered upon the happy couple. The wedding breakfast was given at the residence of Jason H. Brookes.

Mr. and Mrs. Fisher leave this evening for a trip to the east, and will be at home to friends at 203 Bell avenue, Cleveland, after June 1.

Stevenson—I move that the communication be received and there request complied with.

Nickle—in voting for this matter, will the board involve themselves in any difficulty?

Professor Sanor assured the board that such action was legitimate, and under the jurisdiction of the board. The motion then carried.

A bill from Snowden Bros., for $4 50 for work done about the new furnaces, was laid on the table pending an investigation. On motion it was also decided to appoint a committee to look into the bill of the Unionist, and report at the next meeting.

Mr. Vodrey then announced that the school teachers had requested that the board supply them with Bibles to read from.

Mr. Stevenson moved that this be done. Mr. Sanor explained that the teachers were almost a unit in requesting that the board furnish Bibles, and had asked the superintendent to announce their wish to the board. The question was balloted upon, and all voted yes except Clerk Norris, who stated that he voted no because he deemed that such action was unnecessary, and to a certain extent he attributed the action of some of the teachers to a spirit of contrariness.

Mrs. Whitehead remarked that had it been her, she would have furnished her own Bible.

Nickle thought that, as the term of school was almost over, the board should defer buying Bibles until the opening of the fall term. He would be in favor of lending them books.

Mr. McClain—I don't think that it is right to ask the Catholic teachers to buy Bibles.

Mrs. Whitehead said that she thought that the American Tract society would furnish them free.

The acceptance of the bond of the secretary was then considered and received. The following names were attached: Will Reed, James Norris, Alex McBane and J. M. Kelley. Members Vodrey and McLain were appointed a committee to wait upon the city treasurer and secure his bond.

The superintendent announced that at a future meeting he would have something to present to the board of education. A few suggestions on various topics were given, and a request made that the committee on the election for bonds compile a complete account of the school expenses. The meeting then adjourned.

FROM OUR EXCHANGES.

More Kind Words For America's Next President.

If Speaker Reed has induced the house ways and means committee not to attempt the re-enactment of the reciprocity features of the McKinley law in the fear that to do so would aid the Ohio man's candidacy, he is making a grave mistake, and is more likely to help than hurt McKinley. Business men want reciprocity and they will favor any candidate who is favorable to any plan by which American trade can be extended and made profitable. Ohio State Journal.

The unanimity of Republican sentiment in this state in favor of the Ohio candidate for the presidential nomination seems to warrant the conclusion that Michigan's delegation of 28 will be solid for McKinley in the St. Louis convention. If this should prove a false reckoning it will be because of a changed aspect between now and then.—Detroit Journal.

Anti-McKinley journals are claiming that the defeat of Senator Sherman's attempt to reopen the tariff question was a slap at the Ohio candidate. Of the four Republican's voting for Mr. Sherman's motion, Mr. Allison is a presidential candidate and Messrs. Teller and Wolcott are radically opposed to Major McKinley.—Youngstown Telegram.

Few think the Sandwich islands or Cuba will be annexed to the United States in time for Grosvenor to claim they're for McKinley.—Philadelphia Times.

"McKinley and Reed" ticket would give the cartoonists an excellent opportunity to ring the charges on "Napoleon and the Czar."—Toledo Blade.

AFTER MANY YEARS

A Former Resident of This City Returns and Calls on Friends.

James W. Blakely, a former resident of this city, who left this place in 1860, bound for the west, returned here yesterday to call upon the friends and acquaintances of his youth.

Mr. Blakely is engaged in business in St. Louis. His father, John S. Blakely, who has been dead for a number of years, was well known around this section of the country, as he was postmaster of this city for some time. The gentleman was amazed at the growth of the city, and expressed his approval at the industry and progressiveness apparent on every hand. He will only be here a short time, his visit being merely a desire to see the home of his youth.

CORNICE FELL.

Part of the Ruins of the Metch Mill Gives Way.

About 5:30 o'clock last evening the northeastern cornice of the ruins of the Metch mill collapsed and fell with a loud crash to the ground. Several spectators were standing near and had a narrow escape from being struck by the falling timbers.

During the greater part of the day, former employees of the mill were engaged in removing grain from the ruin, directly on the spot where the falling timbers struck. Fortunately at the time of the accident no one was at work in the mill, thus escaping the liability of danger to life and limb that they would have been subjected to had they been present.

And Files a Bond in the Sum of $500. An Action to Recover on a Promissory Note—Administrators Appointed—Other Court News.

LISBON, April 28.—The papers were filed in court last evening which bound Harry Springer, the son of Robert Springer, of this place, over to the court in the sum of $500, to answer to a delicate charge preferred by Miss Bridget Cosgrove, of Leetonia. The young woman had been employed as a domestic at a local residence and is now in the county infirmary.

Abram Hartley, Salineville, has filed an action in court against William H. and Eliza Gould to recover on two promissory notes the sum of $582. A mortgage on a small tract of land in Salineville secures the amount, and Hartley asks the sale of the property.

Enoch Elden was appointed administrator of the late George Buckley, of Liverpool township, and gave bond in the sum of $3,000. Thomas Arbuckle, William Anderson and William Nelson were appointed appraisers.

In the estate of William McCullough, John J. Purinton was appointed administrator with $2,000 bond. William Kent, John Horwell and John Peake were appointed appraisers.

A marriage license was issued to Ann C. Powell and Ira C. Yates.

BRITAIN INTERFERES.

Five Leaders of the Reform Committee Condemned to Die.

Special to the NEWS REVIEW.

LONDON, April 28.—Joseph Chamberlain announced in the house of commons today that the five leaders of the reform committee of Johannesburg, J. H. Hammond, Francis Rhodes, George Farrar, Lionel Phillips and Charles Leonard have been condemned to death. Chamberlain at once telegraphed Hercules Robinson to inform President Kruger that the British government expected him to commute the sentences. In government circles this is looked upon as a threat and the people are greatly excited.

ORGANIZED A LEAGUE.

The Local Prohibitionists Met Last Night.

The local Prohibitionists met last night in the Ferguson & Hill block and organized a league. A large number of the party were present and an enjoyable time had by all. A permanent organization was effected and a constitution and bylaws adopted, but the election of officers was left out until the next meeting night, J. L. Swan acting as chairman last night, and Charles F. Bough, secretary. It is the purpose of the organization to meet every two weeks, and the next meeting will be held Thursday week. Addresses were made by Reverends Huffer and Whitehead, and J. C. McClain, and the organization starts under the most flattering prospects.

A PECULIAR CASE.

A Fly Catches in an Infant's Ear and Causes Her Illness.

A few days ago, Pauline, the infant daughter of E. A. Stevenson, the East End school board member, was noticed to be suffering with a heated ear, but no cause could be assigned for it.

Yesterday a black substance was noticed protruding from the child's ear, and when it was removed it was found to be the head and body of a fly. A part of the insect, it is thought, is still imbedded in the ear.

It is supposed that the fly crawled in while the child was sleeping.

John Martin was brought before the mayor yesterday afternoon and fined $6 00 for being drunk on the ferryboat. He had the sum on his clothes and handed it over to the mayor, who is a staunch advocate of reciprocity, and in turn was given his freedom.

Cyrus Huntslen was brought before his honor this afternoon on a like charge and was asked to donate $6.75 for use of the city. Not having the wherewith he was returned to his cell.

EAST LIVERPOOL, O., TUESDAY, APRIL 28.

For President,
WILLIAM MCKINLEY,
OF Ohio.

HE IS AN ARTIST.

We have a pettifogger in town who aspires to be an artist, and has thought of creating character sketches for the comic weeklies. The suggestion has been made that he experiment upon his own phiz, and send the same on east, as a living counterpart of his preceptor, Shylock.

THE BIBLE.

The board of education of East Liverpool has resolved to purchase Bibles for the teachers in the public schools. This action met with but one dissenting vote, and the member thus voting was controlled by the desire not to add to the debt against the schools, but to have the book of books provided by Christian men and women of the city, many of whom would be only too glad to invest the sum of 75 cents in a handsome Oxford Bible, such as can be secured for that sum in this city, and present the same to the school board, thus making an investment which, if given with right motives, will pay a heavy, much-to-be-desired interest.

MANLY MEN.

Every man whose opinion is worthy of consideration is an admirer of a manly man—a man who carefully considers any subject, wants to be right on the same, finally decides the matter in his own heart and mind, and then acts in accord with his belief; in other words, the man who has the courage of his convictions. Such a man, if he be honest with God and himself, will be given all necessary light and wisdom, and he will pursue the even tenor of his way, boldly and fearlessly, confident that he has truth and right for his foundation stones, and that he cannot fail—he must win, in time and in eternity. God has so ordained it, and puny man cannot hope to defeat the aim of the Master.

LAUGHABLE.

The man who imagines, in his pigmy mind, that he can hurt a live and bustling newspaper by stopping his subscription, amounting to 10 cents per week, (which sum such a man (?) often neglects to hand over to the circulation agent) simply because said paper dares to speak the truth about existing evils, is about as poor a specimen of manhood as Uncle Samuel permits to exist in this land of the free and home of the brave. Cases are known where such pigmies have stopped daily papers, and persist in abuse of the owners and publishers thereof, and then sneak into the home or office of a man who takes the paper and pays for it, and impose upon the good nature of the legitimate and manly subscriber by seizing and reading the journal, even before the owner has a chance at it.

GOOD CITIZENSHIP.

There is a host of good citizens in East Liverpool, and they are not embraced in any one church, or in any one political party or creed. They are composed of men and women who believe in law and order, and in the enforcement of the ordinances which appear upon our statute books. They consist of men and women who believe that rowdism, profanity and vulgarity should not be made use of upon our public thoroughfares, and they demand that those who thus offend shall pay the penalty inflicted by the law. A very large proportion of these good citizens are employed in our manufacturing establishments—men and women who earn their living by the sweat of their faces, and all honor is due them for their glorious manhood and womanhood. The roughs and toughs of East Liverpool are largely in the minority, and they must be taught that this grand Republic is built on the principle that the majority shall rule. Turn on the light.

THE NEXT PRESIDENT.

The prophet who could name him to a certainty, might laugh to scorn the owner of a diamond mine. Of course he will be the choice of the Republican party, as our Democratic brethren are lost in the woods, and there is a possibility that they may not be able to emerge from the underbrush until the battle of ballots has almost ceased. Grover and his lack-of-wisdom counselors have well nigh destroyed the power of a once great party, and among the masses, the men who control the ballots, there is a determination to bury deep in the sea of oblivion the would-be leaders who have dared to trifle with the credit and industrial prospects of this great nation. And these same masses are looking, lovingly and longingly, towards the great leader and lover of home and home industries, WILLIAM MCKINLEY, the man whom the people delight to honor, and who will be the choice of the Republican party, at the coming convention, if the warm desire of the masses is taken into consideration.

The Barical Guns.

In the delta of the Ganges a mysterious sound is sometimes heard, to which the name of "Barical guns" is given, because of its resemblance to the dull report of distant artillery. Similar noises are well known to the lighthouse keepers and fishermen of Ostend and Boulogne, who call them the "mist puffers, or fog dissipators, and generally hear them on the evening of a hot day in summer. Although the sounds are compared to the detonations of guns, they are not very like these, and they occur at irregular intervals. Their origin is enveloped in mystery, but some physicists regard them as electrical detonations, such as might be produced by flashes of ordinary lightning, or the explosion of globe lightning, while others refer them to the shocks of fluid matter in the bowels of the earth or the rumbling of slight earthquakes.—Public Opinion.

A Question of Honor.

She is young, happily married and prosperous. A short time ago she lost her purse in the street, and immediately upon discovering her loss went to a newspaper office and put in an advertisement, offering a reward for the return of the missing article. The following day a poor man brought the purse to her house and claimed the reward. Leaving him standing at the door, she disappeared, presumably to get the promised sum, but in reality to send one of her servants for a policeman, although she had no good reason for doubting the man's statement that he had picked up the purse in the street. He was not arrested, but he got no reward. This sort of thing is rather discouraging to persons with honest intentions.—New York Journal.

"The Barber of Seville."

"The Barber of Seville," the famous opera of Rossini, was produced for the first time on Feb. 16, 1816. According to the Italian law, which fixes the duration of the right of ownership for dramatic works at 80 years, Rossini's masterpiece would have become public property a few weeks ago. But in Italy no opera is more popular than "The Barber," and the revenues from its production constitute almost the whole income of the musical academy at Pesaro, Italy, the residuary legatee of the composer. Owing to this fact, the government has issued a decree prolonging the right of proprietorship two years in order to save the institution financially.

LEGISLATORS ARE DONE

The Seventysecond General Assembly Has Adjourned.

THE LAST WORK OF THE SESSION.

A Number of Bills Became Laws During the Closing Hours by Final Passage—
A Resume of the More Important Legislation Enacted.

COLUMBUS, April 28.—Both branches of the general assembly have adjourned sine die.

Bills were passed in the house the closing session as follows:

Senate bill providing that an assignee or trustee can plat lots and sell them.

Senate bill providing that officers of banks or corporations shall make returns to the clerk of court under the partnership law.

Senate bill providing that when prosecuting attorneys defend the commissioners in civil action they shall receive compensation.

Senate bill giving the court power to fix the bond in the attachment of property in suits for damages for death or personal injuries.

Senate bill creating a hospital and signal corps for the Ohio national guard.

Senate bill providing for the abandonment of the Working Home for the Blind.

Senate bill providing for the abolishment of sweatshops.

Senate bill providing against duplicating names of incorporated companies.

Senate joint resolution, ceding to the United States the right of the state to land at Fallen Timbers, Fort Meigs and Put-In-Bay, where monuments are to be erected.

Bills were passed in the senate, the closing session, as follows:

House bill prohibiting saloons within one mile of the Soldiers' home at Sandusky.

House bill appropriating $10,000 to widen and deepen the Miami river in Logan county.

House bill relating to the standard barrel dry measure.

A resume of the work of the past session shows that, while there was no legislation of great importance, a mass of bills became laws.

In the way of temperance legislation the Dow tax law was raised $350 by the bill of Mr. Goodale, a most valuable revenue measure. A quietus was put upon extreme temperance legislation early in the session, when the Haskell bill was killed. The passage of the Goodale bill was the extent of temperance legislation, if that can be considered a temperance measure.

In the interest of social purity, among the bills that have become laws are the Swingle bill, forbidding the keeping of male or female children over 4 and under 16 years of age in disorderly houses; Mr. Avery's bill, forbidding the harboring of girls under 18 in disorderly houses, and the bill by Mr. Sullivan, fixing the age of consent at 16 years.

Among the sanitary laws enacted are the following: Dr. Deaton's bill regulating the plumbing business and requiring plumbers to take out licenses; Mr. Aker's clean bakery bill, compelling bakeshops to observe sanitary rules and regulations, and forbidding their location in cellars or basements; the bill of General Wiley, prohibiting the transportation within this state of hogs infected with cholera; a bill to prevent the adulteration of vinegar, by Senator Brown; Senator Whittlesey's bill to prevent fraud in the manufacture of cheese; Senator Sullivan's measure prohibiting the contamination of animals used for human food; the bill of Senator Hankey, to prevent the pollution of rivers, lakes and ponds.

Another law is the Kummell bill, creating a state medical board and regulating the practice of medicine.

Laws to prevent fraud are numerous. Prominent among these measures are the Killbourne sterling silver bill, forbidding the sale of articles stamped as sterling or coin silver unless nine hundred and twenty-five thousandths part of the component parts of the metal is pure silver, and Mr. McBride's bill to prevent the adulteration of linseed oil.

Protection for the poor and unfortunate is afforded by Mr. Parham's bill, compelling chattel mortgage sharks to keep records of loans made by them.

Among the laws of a patriotic nature are the Cummings bill, requiring boards of education to fly the stars and stripes from all school houses in fair weather; the bill of Mr. Wilhelm, forbidding the playing of any public game on Decoration day during the rendition of the program within a radius of one mile of the speaker's stand and Senator Spark's bill prohibiting the display of foreign flags on public buildings.

Several laws for the protection of human life are the anti-lycching bill of Mr. Smith which compels a county in which a lynching occurs to pay to the heirs of the person lynched $5,000; Mr. McBride's bill, providing for interlocking fixtures at railway grade crossings and on swing and draw bridges, and Mr. Walton's bill requiring passenger coaches to carry portable fire extinguishers.

The most strikingly original bill that passed was the Fosdick bill, which prevents the wearing of high hats in theaters.

For the protection of the ballotbox the most prominent bills that became laws were the Garfield corrupt practice bill; the Hard bill, forbidding judges of election to mark the ballots of voters unless the latter are unable to do so by reason of blindness, paralysis, extreme old age or other physical infirmity, and Mr. Stewart's bill forbidding lettering within 75 feet of any primary election polling place.

Several revenue measures that passed, in addition to the bill increasing the Dow tax, were the Goodale bill, levying an excise tax on electric light, gas, natural gas, street railroad and pipe line companies; Mr. Means' bill requiring all state and county officers and common pleas, circuit and supreme judges to pay a fee of $5 to the secretary of state before receiving their commissions; Senator Whittlesey's bill taxing freight line and equipment companies according to the market value of their stock.

Bills of a miscellaneous character that became laws were Mr. Aldrich's bill forbidding Gypsies to camp on highways without the consent of the adjacent property owners; Mr. Griffith's bill making a judgment by confession a lien from the date on which it is entered on the court journal; the Rogers fifty-year street railroad franchise extension bill; providing for the inspection of county commissioners and boards of health of private and public hospitals, reformatory homes, houses of detention, private asylums, etc.; the Clark bill adopting the Torrens system of registration of land titles for Ohio; the Beatty bill, requiring township trustees to put up sign boards at road intersections; the bill of Mr. Bosler permitting Ohio railroad companies to issue bonds in excess of their capital stock; the Dodge bill for the enlargement of the state house; Senator Avery's bill prohibiting the sale of cigarettes, tobacco and cigars to minors under 16 years of age; Senator Hutsenpiller's bill abolishing days of grace; the Plummer Saturday half holiday bill; the Jones electronic act bill; Mr. Montgomery's bill authorizing the incorporation of ship canal companies; the bill of Mr. Herron making typewritten bills legal; the Laning bill compelling railroads to carry bicycles as baggage; a bill of Mr. Herron limiting the liability of innkeepers for property entrusted to their care to $5,000 in the absence of a specific contract to the contrary.

Quite a record was made in the increase of the local indebtedness of different localities in the state. The total amount of bonds authorized by special acts will reach nearly $14,000,000. Fully 90 per cent of this goes to the wealthy and thickly populated counties of Hamilton and Cuyahoga, or, speaking more definitely, to Cincinnati and Cleveland. These cities vied with each other, but the former leads by several millions.

SCOTT JACKSON'S TRIAL.

More Testimony Damaging to the Prisoner and Walling Given.

NEWPORT, Ky., April 28.—Ten more witnesses have been examined in the Jackson trial, 52 up to the present time. Much time was devoted to debating by counsel. Many questions during the day offered by the commonwealth were ruled out. The number of objections by the defense overruled was too great to enumerate.

The testimony of several witnesses was to strengthen the links in the chain that have already been forged. Such was the case with the evidence of Mr. Legner, in whose saloon the value was hidden, of Ed Grillo, The Commercial Gazette reporter who saw a river bridge ticket found on Jackson when first arrested, calling for the passage of horse and vehicle. One important point in Detective Crim's testimony of what he heard Jackson say in the sensitive cell was that in speaking to Walling he said: "Well, old boy, you have played your part well," and "stand pat when you get over there."

Night Clerk Rogers of Heider's hotel said that Walling came there after 3 o'clock of February 1, with his clothes wringing wet, and rushed to bed without registering. He had never before, or since stayed over night at the hotel. Harry Hays of Green Castle, Ind., identified the shoes he sold to Pearl Bryan, Nov. 18, 1895.

Lieutenant Saffers of Fort Thomas and Detective McDermott agreed in testifying to an imprint in the slope where the body was found like that made by some one forced to sit down heavily. He testified to seeing tracks above the slope and to discovering a glove trodden in the ground which has already been identified as that of Pearl Bryan's. The defense brought Will Wood on the stand to interrogate about two vile letters written by him to Scott Jackson Feb. 1 and 2. Here it was that the women were required to retire. These letters are too coarse and indecent to be printed.

The points of greatest importance as bearing on the case in Will Wood's letter to Jackson was in that dated Plymouth, Ind., Feb. 1, were the following sentences:

"Doc, if you have let a chance go by I'll give you h—l"; also, "If you have grown chicken-hearted you ought to be shot."

Wood was detained to give the defense opportunity to offer this testimony.

Suicide of a Dayton Man.

DAYTON, O., April 28.—William A. Shoe, a widower, residing at 415 Dale avenue, has committed suicide by hanging himself to the end of a rope. Shoe buried his wife about two years ago, and subsequently lost his two children by death. He has since been more or less depressed in spirits. This is the only cause that can be assigned for the deed.

Accused of Bank Robbery.

SABINA, O., April 28.—Jack Holmes has been arrested near here in Fayette county by Sheriff Tom South of Wilmington on a warrant charging him with complicity in the Leesburg bank robbery on the night of Feb. 16.

HIXENBAUGH OUT ON BAIL.

The B. & O. Conductor Accused of Murder Is at Liberty.

PARKERSBURG, W. Va., April 28.—William Hixenbaugh, the conductor on the Baltimore and Ohio railroad who is under arrest for alleged murder of Thos. Fisher, has been released on $5,000 bail from the jail at Moundsville. The evidence shows that Fisher and two other parties were stealing a ride. Conductor Hixenbaugh ordered them off the train. They were on the platform.

Two of them got off, but Fisher stood his ground, when Hixenbaugh took his brake club and struck him over the head, knocking him under the train, which ran over him, cutting off his head and legs. Hixenbaugh denies that he struck him. He says that he attempted to knock his hat off with the brake club and Fisher dodged, throwing himself under the car. The two men who were with Fisher have not yet turned up.

Union Veterans Will Organize.

PARKERSBURG, W. Va., April 28.—Efforts are now being made looking to the formation of a new association by the Union veterans of this state to be known as the Society of West Virginia, Union Veterans. A circular has been sent into every part of the state. The invitation says: "This is primarily and essentially a private soldiers' organization. We know no rank. Faithful service must be the basis of the organization, watchword, and the state medal the badge of honor." Captain C.J. Rawling of the First West Virginia infantry is chairman and Henry Seaman of Battery D is secretary.

AN EX-ENEMY'S PRAISE

Longstreet In Boston Lauds the Career of General Grant.

FIRM, YET GENEROUS TO HIS FOES

Foraker and Hoyt Also Spoke—Hastings and Postmaster General Wilson in New York—Grant's Birthday Is Celebrated at Different Points.

BOSTON, April 28.—The Grant dinner of the Middlesex club at the Brunswick in honor of the birthday of the great general was a fitting closing of the banquet season.

The distinguished guests of the evening were: General James Longstreet of the Confederate army, Senator-elect Jos. B. Foraker of Ohio; James H. Hoyt of Ohio, Senator Thurston of Nebraska and Lieutenant Governor Wolcott, and were seated in places of prominence near the president of the club, ex-Governor J. Q. A. Brackett, and all were greeted with the most enthusiastic applause.

General Longstreet said in part: "Grant returned to service in the United States army in the hour of sanguinary war at the head of a regiment of volunteers. His work soon drew the attention of his superiors, and he began to rise. Modest as a maiden, the heavy blows of the strong arm of an Ajax, were all there was to tell the story of work that pushed him up, until at the end of two years he found himself above all officers that held superior rank, commanding armies of 1,000,000 soldiers, spread out over the lines of thousands of miles, yet humbly submissive to the government he so ably defended. If another record marks such an epoch I fail to recall it."

"Of all the Union commanders, Grant was the great leader who accurately surveyed the great field of war."

"When it was all ended in a campaign of malice his generous heart offered all that his enemy could ask as terms of surrender, with abundance of provisions for the hungry soldiers and transportation to their distant homes."

At Grant's Old Home.

GALENA, Ills., April 28.—The Grant birthday celebration in this city began when the historic cannon, the present gift of the United States government to the city of Galena, was mounted and unveiled with appropriate ceremonies in charge of a detachment of the Seventeenth army corps, which captured the cannon from the Confederates at Chertaw. Other exercises occurred.

Eleven Killed by the Cyclone.

CONCORDIA, Kan., April 28.—The number of killed and who have died from their wounds from the cyclone is reported to be 11, but the list will doubtless be increased. Over 25 persons are said to have sustained serious injuries. Over 20 families were rendered homeless by the storm. The suffering of those injured was rendered great by the severe hail and rain that closely followed the cyclone.

EAST LIVERPOOL, O., TUESDAY, APRIL 28.

For President, WILLIAM MCKINLEY, OF OHIO.

HE IS AN ARTIST.

We have a pettifogger in town who aspires to be an artist, and has thought of creating character sketches for the comic weeklies. The suggestion has been made that he experiment upon his own phiz, and send the same on east, as a living counterpart of his preceptor, Shylock.

THE BIBLE.

The board of education of East Liverpool has resolved to purchase Bibles for the teachers in the public schools. This action met with but one dissenting vote, and the member thus voting was controlled by the desire not to add to the debt against the schools, but to have the book of books provided by Christian men and women of the city, many of whom would be only too glad to invest the sum of 75 cents in a handsome Oxford Bible, such as can be secured for that sum in this city, and present the same to the school board, thus making an investment which, if given with right motives, will pay a heavy, much-to-be-desired interest.

MANLY MEN.

Every man whose opinion is worthy of consideration is an admirer of a manly man—a man who carefully considers any subject, wants to be right on the same, finally decides the matter in his own heart and mind, and then acts in accord with his belief; in other words, the man who has the courage of his convictions. Such a man, if he be honest with God and himself, will be given all necessary light and wisdom, and he will pursue the even tenor of his way, boldly and fearlessly, confident that he has truth and right for his foundation stones, and that he cannot fail—he must win, in time and in eternity. God has so ordained it, and puny man cannot hope to defeat the aim of the Master.

LAUGHABLE.

The man who imagines in his pigmy mind, that he can hurt a live and bustling newspaper by stopping his subscription, amounting to 10 cents per week, (which sum such a man (?) often neglects to hand over to the circulation agent) simply because said paper dares to speak the truth about existing evils, is about as poor a specimen of manhood as Uncle Samuel permits to exist in this land of the free and home of the brave. Cases are known where such pigmies have stopped daily papers, and persist in abuse of the owners and publishers thereof, and then sneak into the home or office of a man who takes the paper and pays for it, and impose upon the good nature of the legitimate and manly subscriber by seizing and reading the journal, even before the owner has a chance at it.

GOOD CITIZENSHIP.

There is a host of good citizens in East Liverpool, and they are not embraced in any one church, or in any one political party or creed. They are composed of men and women who believe in law and order, and in the enforcement of the ordinances which appear upon our statute books. They consist of men and women who believe that rowdism, profanity and vulgarity should not be made use of upon our public thoroughfares, and they demand that those who thus offend shall pay the penalty inflicted by the law. A very large proportion of these good citizens are employed in our manufacturing establishments—men and women who earn their living by the sweat of their faces, and all honor is due them for their glorious manhood and womanhood. The roughs and toughs of East Liverpool are largely in the minority, and they must be taught that this grand Republic is built on the principle that the majority shall rule. Turn on the light.

THE NEXT PRESIDENT.

The prophet who could name him to a certainty, might laugh to scorn the owner of a diamond mine. Of course he will be the choice of the Republican party, as our Democratic brethren are lost in the woods, and there is a possibility that they may not be able to emerge from the underbrush until the battle of ballots has almost ceased. Grover and his lack-of-wisdom counselors have well nigh destroyed the power of a once great party, and among the masses, the men who control the ballots, there is a determination to bury deep in the sea of oblivion the would-be leaders who have dared to trifle with the credit and industrial prospects of this great nation. And these same masses are looking, lovingly and longingly, towards the great leader and lover of home and home industries, WILLIAM MCKINLEY, the man whom the people delight to honor, and who will be the choice of the Republican party, at the coming convention, if the warm desire of the masses is taken into consideration.

The Barisal Guns.

In the delta of the Ganges a mysterious sound is sometimes heard, to which the name of "Barisal guns" is given, because of its resemblance to the dull report of distant artillery. Similar noises are well known to the lighthouse keepers and fishermen of Ostend and Boulogne, who call them the "mist puffers," or fog dissipators, and generally hear them on the evening of a hot day in summer. Although the sounds are compared to the detonations of guns, they are not very like these, and they occur at irregular intervals. Their origin is enveloped in mystery, but some physicists regard them as electrical detonations, such as might be produced by flashes of ordinary lightning or the explosion of globe lightning, while others refer them to the shocks of fluid matter in the bowels of the earth or the rumbling of slight earthquakes.—Public Opinion.

A Question of Honor.

She is young, happily married and prosperous. A short time ago she lost her purse in the street, and immediately upon discovering her loss went to a newspaper office and put in an advertisement, offering a reward for the return of the missing article. The following day a poor man brought the purse to her house and claimed the reward. Leaving him standing at the door, she disappeared, presumably to get the promised sum, but in reality to send one of her servants for a policeman, although she had no good reason for doubting the man's statement that he had picked up the purse in the street. He was not arrested, but he got no reward. This sort of thing is rather discouraging to persons with honest intentions.—New York Journal.

"The Barber of Seville."

"The Barber of Seville," the famous opera of Rossini, was produced for the first time on Feb. 16, 1816. According to the Italian law, which fixes the duration of the right of ownership for dramatic works at 80 years, Rossini's masterpiece would have become public property a few weeks ago. But in Italy no opera is more popular than "The Barber," and the revenues from its production constitute almost the whole income of the musical academy at Pesaro, Italy, the residuary legate of the composer. Owing to this fact, the government has issued a decree prolonging the right of proprietorship two years in order to save the institution financially.

LEGISLATORS ARE DONE

The Seventysecond General Assembly Has Adjourned.

THE LAST WORK OF THE SESSION.

A Number of Bills Became Laws During the Closing Hours by Final Passage—A Resume of the More Important Legislation Enacted.

COLUMBUS, April 28.—Both branches of the general assembly have adjourned sine die.

Bills were passed in the house the closing session as follows:

Senate bill providing that an assignee or trustee can plat lots and sell them.

Senate bill providing that officers of banks or corporations shall make returns to the clerk of court under the partnership law.

Senate bill providing that when prosecuting attorneys defend the commissioners in civil action they shall receive compensation.

Senate bill giving the court power to fix the bond in the attachment of property in suits for damages for death or personal injuries.

Senate bill creating a hospital and signal corps for the Ohio national guard.

Senate bill providing for the abandonment of the Working Home for the Blind.

Senate bill providing for the abolishment of sweatshops.

Senate bill providing against duplicating names of incorporated companies.

Senate joint resolution, ceding to the United States the right of the state to land at Fallen Timbers, Fort Meigs and Put-In-Bay, where monuments are to be erected.

Bills were passed in the senate, the closing session, as follows:

House bill prohibiting saloons within one mile of the Soldiers' home at Sandusky.

House bill appropriating $10,000 to widen and deepen the Miami river in Logan county.

House bill relating to the standard barrel dry measure.

A resume of the work of the past session shows that, while there was no legislation of great importance, a mass of bills became laws.

In the way of temperance legislation the Dow tax law was raised to $50 by the bill of Mr. Goodale, a most valuable revenue measure. A quietus was put upon extreme temperance legislation early in the session, when the Huskell bill was killed. The passage of the Goodale bill was the extent of temperance legislation, if that can be considered a temperance measure.

In the interest of social purity, among the bills that have become laws are the Swingle bill, forbidding the keeping of male or female children over 4 and under 16 years of age in disorderly houses; Mr. Avery's bill, forbidding the harboring of girls under 18 in disorderly houses, and the bill by Mr. Sullivan, fixing the age of consent at 16 years.

Among the sanitary laws enacted are the following: Dr. Deaton's bill regulating the plumbing business and requiring plumbers to take out licenses; Mr. Aker's clean bakery bill, compelling bakershops to observe sanitary rules and regulations, and forbidding their location in cellars or basements; the bill of General Wiley, prohibiting the transportation within this state of hogs infected with cholera; a bill to prevent the adulteration of vinegar, by Senator Brown; Senator Whittlesey's bill to prevent fraud in the manufacture of cheese; Senator Sullivan's measure prohibiting the contamination of animals used for human food; the bill of Senator Hankey, to prevent the pollution of rivers, lakes and ponds.

Another law is the Kummell bill, creating a state medical board and regulating the practice of medicine.

Laws to prevent fraud are numerous. Prominent among these measures are the Killbourne sterling silver bill, forbidding the sale of articles stamped as sterling or coin silver unless nine hundred and twenty-five thousandths part of the component parts of the metal is pure silver, and Mr. McBride's bill to prevent the adulteration of linseed oil.

Protection for the poor and unfortunate is afforded by Mr. Farham's bill, compelling chattel mortgage sharks to keep records of loans made by them.

Among the laws of a patriotic nature are the Cummings bill, requiring boards of education to fly the stars and stripes from all school houses in fair weather; the bill of Mr. Wilhelm, forbidding the playing of any public game on Decoration day during the rendition of the program within a radius of one mile of the speaker's stand and Senator Spark's bill prohibiting the display of foreign flags on public buildings.

Several laws for the protection of human life are the anti-lycch bill of Mr. Smith which compels a county in which a lynching occurs to pay to the heirs of the person lynched $5,000; Mr. McBride's bill, providing for inter-locking fixtures at railway grade crossings and on sawing and draw bridges, and Mr. Walton's bill requiring passenger coaches to carry portable fire extinguishers.

The most strikingly original bill that passed was the Fosdick bill, which prevents the wearing of high hats in theaters.

For the protection of the ballotbox the most prominent bills that became laws were the Garfield corrupt practice bill; the Hard bill, forbidding judges of election to mark the ballots of voters unless the latter are unable to do so by reason of blindness, paralysis, extreme old age or other physical infirmity, and Mr. Stewart's bill forbidding loitering within 75 feet of any primary election polling place.

Several revenue measures that passed, in addition to the bill increasing the Dow tax, were the Goodale bill, levying an excise tax on electric light, gas, natural gas, street railroad and pipe line companies; Mr. Means' bill requiring all state and county officers and common pleas, circuit and supreme judges to pay a fee of $5 to the secretary of state before receiving their commissions; Senator Whittlesey's bill taxing freight line and equipment companies according to the market value of their stock.

Bills of a miscellaneous character that became laws were Mr. Aldrich's bill forbidding Gypsies to camp on highways without the consent of the adjacent property owners; Mr. Griffith's bill making a judgment by confession a lien from the date on which it is entered on the court journal; the Rogers fifty-year street railroad franchise extension bill; providing for the inspection of county commissioners and boards of health of private and public hospitals, reformatory homes, houses of detention, private asylums, etc.; the Clark bill adopting the Torrens system of registration of land titles for Ohio; the Beatty bill, requiring township trustees to put up sign boards at road intersections; the bill of Mr. Bosler permitting Ohio railroad companies to issue bonds in excess of their capital stock; the Dodge bill for the enlargement of the state house; Senator Avery's bill prohibiting the sale of cigarettes, tobacco and cigars to minors under 16 years of age; Senator Hunschiller's bill abolishing days of grace; the Pleumer Saturday half holiday bill; the Jones electrocution bill; Mr. Montgomery's bill authorizing the incorporation of ship canal companies; the bill of Mr. Herron making typewritten bills legal; the Laning bill compelling railroads to carry bicycles as baggage; a bill of Mr. Herron limiting the liability of innkeepers for property entrusted to their care to $5,000 in the absence of a specific contract to the contrary.

Quite a record was made in the increase of local indebtedness of different localities in the state. The total amount of bonds authorized by special acts will reach nearly $14,000,000. Fully 90 per cent of this goes to the wealthy and thickly populated counties of Hamilton and Cuyahoga, or, speaking more definitely, to Cincinnati and Cleveland. These cities vied with each other, but the former leads by several millions.

SCOTT JACKSON'S TRIAL.

More Testimony Damaging to the Prisoner and Walling Given.

NEWPORT, Ky., April 28.—Ten more witnesses have been examined in the Jackson trial, 52 up to the present time. Much time was devoted to debating by counsel. Many questions during the day offered by the commonwealth were ruled out. The number of objections by the defense overruled was too great to enumerate.

The testimony of several witnesses who strengthen the link in the chain that have already been forged. Such was the case with the evidence of Mr. Legner, in whose saloon the valise was hidden, of Ed Grillo, The Commercial Gazette reporter who saw a river bridge ticket found on Jackson when first arrested, calling for the passage of horse and vehicle. One important point in Detective Crim's testimony of what he heard Jackson say in the sensitive cell was that in speaking to Walling he said: "Well, old boy, you have played your part well," and "stand pat when you get over there."

Night Clerk Rogers of Heider's hotel said that Walling came there after 3 o'clock of February 1, with his clothes wringing wet, and rushed to bed without registering. He had never before, or since stayed over night at the hotel. Harry Hays of Green Castle, Ind., identified the shoes he sold to Pearl Bryan, Nov. 18, 1895.

Lieutenant Saffers of Fort Thomas and Detective McDermott agreed in testifying to an imprint in the slope where the body was found like that made by some one forced to sit down heavily. He testified to seeing tracks above the slope and to discovering a glove trodden in the ground which has already been identified as that of Pearl Bryan's. The defense brought Will Wood on the stand to interrogate about two vile letters written by him to Scott Jackson Feb. 1 and 3. Here it was that the women were required to retire. These letters are too coarse and indecent to be printed.

The point of greatest importance as bearing on the case in Will Wood's letter to Jackson was in that dated Plymouth, Ind., Feb. 1. were the following sentences:

"Doc, if you have let a chance go by I'll give you h—l"; also, "If you have grown chicken-hearted you ought to be shot."

Wood was detained to give the defense opportunity to offer this testimony.

Suicide of a Dayton Man.

DAYTON, O., April 28.—William A. Shoe, a widower, residing at 415 Dale avenue, has committed suicide by hanging himself to the end of a rope. Shoe buried his wife about two years ago, and subsequently lost his two children by death. He has since been more or less depressed in spirits. This is the only cause that can be assigned for the deed.

SABINA, O., April 28.—Jack Holmes has been arrested near here in Fayette county by Sheriff Tom South of Wilmington on a warrant charging him with complicity in the Leesburg bank robbery on the night of Feb. 16.

HIXENBAUGH OUT ON BAIL.

The B. & O. Conductor Accused of Murder Is at Liberty.

PARKERSBURG, W. Va., April 28.—William Hixenbaugh, the conductor on the Baltimore and Ohio railroad who is under arrest for alleged murder of Thos. Fisher, has been released on $5,000 bail from the jail at Moundsville. The evidence shows that Fisher and two other parties were stealing a ride. Conductor Hixenbaugh ordered them off the train. They were on the platform.

Two of them got off, but Fisher stood his ground, when Hixenbaugh took his brake club and struck him over the head, knocking him under the train, which ran over him, cutting off his head and legs. Hixenbaugh denies that he struck him. He says that he attempted to knock his hat off with the brake club and Fisher dodged, throwing himself under the car. The two men who were with Fisher have not yet turned up.

Union Veterans Will Organize.

PARKERSBURG, W. Va., April 28.—Efforts are now being made looking to the formation of a new association by the Union veterans of this state to be known as the Society of West Virginia, Union Veterans. A circular has been sent into every part of the state. The invitation says: "This is primarily and essentially a private soldiers' organization. We know no rank. Faithful service must be the record, patriotism the watchword and the state medal the badge of honor." Captain C.J. Rawling of the First West Virginia infantry is chairman and Henry Seaman of Battery D is secretary.

AN EX-ENEMY'S PRAISE

Longstreet In Boston Lauds the Career of General Grant.

FIRM, YET GENEROUS TO HIS FOES

Foraker and Hoyt Also Spoke—Hastings and Postmaster General Wilson In New York—Grant's Birthday Is Celebrated at Different Points.

BOSTON, April 28.—The Grant dinner of the Middlesex club at the Brunswick in honor of the birthday of the great general was a fitting closing of the banquet season.

The distinguished guests of the evening were: General James Longstreet of the Confederate army, Senator-elect Jos. B. Foraker of Ohio; James H. Hoyt of Ohio, Senator Thurston of Nebraska and Lieutenant Governor Wolcott, and were seated in places of prominence near the president of the club, ex-Governor J. Q. A. Brackett, and all were greeted with the most enthusiastic applause.

General Longstreet said in part: "Grant returned to service in the United States army in the hour of sanguinary war at the head of a regiment of volunteers. His work soon drew the attention of his superiors, and he began to rise. Modest as a maiden, the heavy blows of the strong arm of an Ajax, were all there was to tell the story of work that pushed him up, until at the end of two years he found himself above all officers that held superior rank, commanding armies of 1,000,000 soldiers, spread out over the lines of thousands of miles, yet humbly submissive to the government he so ably defended. If another record marks such an epoch I fail to recall it."

"Of all the Union commanders, Grant was the great leader who accurately surveyed the great field of war."

"When it was all ended incapable of malice his generous heart offered all that his enemy could ask as terms of surrender, with abundance of provisions for the hungry soldiers and transportation to their distant homes."

At Grant's Old Home.

GALENA, Ill., April 28.—The Grant birthday celebration in this city began when the historic cannon, the recent gift of the United States government to the city of Galena, was mounted and unveiled with appropriate ceremonies in charge of a detachment of the Seventeenth army corps, which captured the cannon from the Confederates at Cheraw. Other exercises occurred.

CULLOM IS IN TO STAY.

Denies He Has Written a Letter of Withdrawal.

HOT CONVENTION FOR TOMORROW

McKinley's Friends Are Making a Strong Fight to Have Illinois Republican Delegates Instructed For Their Man—Cullom, Allison and Reed Men Opposed.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., April 28.—Senator Shelby M. Cullom is in the fight for the presidential nomination to stay. He said to himself, "I have written no letter of withdrawal and shall write none," he said. "I am in the struggle to win or lose and desire that my friends of this state and others clearly understand my position."

Never before in the memory of the oldest politicians has there been so much excitement and interest in a state convention in Illinois as there is over the one to be held here tomorrow. Already the town is overrun with delegates, of those who are and those who are not.

The chief interest seems to center on the presidential question. A movement is on foot among the friends of William

McKinley, Jr., to have the convention adopt resolutions instructing the delegates at-large to vote for McKinley as soon as the convention is called to order. Senator Cullom's friends are of course favoring Allison and Reed. What the outcome will be no man, not even the leaders themselves, can tell.

NEGOTIATIONS PROGRESSING.

England Has Received Another Note From the United States.

LONDON, April 28.—The first lord of the treasury, Mr. A. J. Balfour, replying to Sir William Vernon Harcourt, the Liberal leader, said in the house of commons that arrangements for a condition of arbitration with respect to Venezuela and other questions are matters which Great Britain and the United States had in view during the recent negotiations. Mr. Balfour added that the last communication from the United States arrived on Friday last and was now under consideration.

Continuing, Mr. Balfour said that the government would deal with both the general question of arbitration and also with the special question connected with Venezuela, and it was confidently hoped that by patience and tact on both sides a peaceful and satisfactory solution of the matters would be attained.

TURKEY BROUGHT TO TIME.

A U. S. War Vessel Telegraphed For and Knapp Was Freed.

CONSTANTINOPLE, April 28.—The Rev. George P. Knapp, American missionary who has been expelled from Bitlis by the Turkish authorities, without trial, on the charge of having incited Armenians to rebel against Turkish rule, was surrendered to the United States consul at Alexandretta.

It was the intention of Turkey to put him on a vessel for Europe, thus expelling him from the country. United States Charge d'Affaires Biddle sent for the United States cruiser Marblehead at Mersina to go to Alexandretta to prevent the missionary's expulsion and the port promptly ordered Knapp released.

UNION'S STUDENTS NOT BARRED.

New York Presbytery Defies Injunction of General Assembly.

NEW YORK, April 28.—The meeting of the New York presbytery, for the purpose of voting on the report of the committee on the minutes of the general assembly, proved to be the liveliest session that that body has held in a long time. The committee consists of Rev. Dr. John C. Bliss, Dr. W. W. Atterbury and Geo. H. Hyde.

A year ago the presbytery asked the general assembly for advice in the matter of receiving candidates for the ministry. The general assembly instructed and enjoined the presbytery from receiving under its care for licensure students who are pursuing, or purpose to pursue, their studies in theological seminaries respecting whose teaching the general assembly disavows responsibility.

This was aimed at Union Theological seminary. The report of the committee says that "it seems to us that the general assembly exceeds its constitutional powers and infringes upon the inherent rights of the presbytery, which are specially reserved to it by our constitution," in the matter.

After a hot debate the statement of Rev. Dr. John Hall was adopted as a substitute, in which he says that the presbytery desires to report respectfully to the general assembly that it receives ministers from other presbyteries satisfied of their acceptance of the standards of the church "and that it is the presbytery's intention to apply the same principles in the preservation of scriptural doctrines to all applicants for licensure," and will "not exclude from application for licensure students who give evident assurance of their loyalty to the standards of the church."

Spirited Talk in the House Over Bringing Up the Pension Bill.

WASHINGTON, April 28.—The house debated the Pickler pension bill. It was engrossed and ordered to passage.

The debate on the adoption of a rule brought in by the rules committee in the house for a vote on the bill was rather sensational. Mr. Crisp charged that the "leaders" of the majority had thrown over the committee on pensions and framed this bill, and now proposed to pass this bill or none without amendment.

Mr. Henderson taunted Mr. Crisp "as the head of the star chamber rules committee of the past" without being disingenuous. He frankly acknowledged that the purpose of the rule was to bring the bill to a vote.

Mr. Hepburn (Rep., Iowa) protested vigorously against the interference of the committee on rules, declaring that if there was any question in which the Republican house could be trusted it was that of pensions. The rule was adopted on a rising vote—70 to 66.

CRITICIZED THE POPE.

Chicago Methodist Minister: Think Their Appeal Has Been Ignored.

CHICAGO, April 28.—The Chicago Methodist ministers' meeting, April 2, 1894, appointed a committee to invite the pope's attention to the fact "that our Protestant brethren in the republic of Peru, Ecuador and Bolivia labor under oppressive disabilities that affect not only the profession of their faith and the public worship of God according to the dictates of their conscience, but also their civil and unalienable right to be legally married without being compelled to forswear their religious convictions," and to respectfully and earnestly request him to secure for these Protestants "the same liberty of conscience that is enjoyed by Roman Catholic citizens of this country."

At the ministers' meeting Monday the Rev. John Lee accused Archbishop Ireland and Salloti with ignoring their letters and Cardinal Gibbons and the papal secretary with delay. Then by insinuation they accuse Cardinal Gibbons with practically garbling through mistranslation and part translation the pope's reply. In his reply the papal secretary says:

I wrote to the apostolic delegate for the republics of Peru, Bolivia and Ecuador to obtain precise information as to the legal status of Protestants there, regarding the free exercise of religious worship and the celebration of marriages.

The (official) representative of the holy see promptly complied with my request; and now I am in a position to state that the Protestants in Peru, far from being restricted in the free exercise of their worship, are rather accorded a larger degree of toleration than is compatible with a strict construction of the political constitution of these countries. This is evidenced by the fact that in Peru, especially in the cities of Lima and Callao, there are several Anglican and Methodist chapels where weekly conferences are held.

As to the solemnization of marriages, the delegate informs me that, whilst the constitution of Peru recognizes no other form (as valid) than that prescribed by the council of Trent, Protestants do, as a matter of fact, wed with religious ceremony in presence of their ministers, and civilly before the consuls and ambassadors of their respective countries.

The same condition of things relative to marriage exists in Bolivia and Ecuador, where the exercise of religious worship is regulated by special constitutional enactments, with which, however, the holy see cannot interfere.

Then the report severely criticizes the pope's actions in the matter and accuses him of trying to cover up, explain away or justify the condition of affairs in the countries named.

As the sack only weighed 145 pounds he struggled under his burden, but managed to carry it in the store, and when he laid it down, said: "Heaps strong; but too heavy for Wah Lee."

CULLOM IS IN TO STAY.

Denies He Has Written a Letter of Withdrawal.

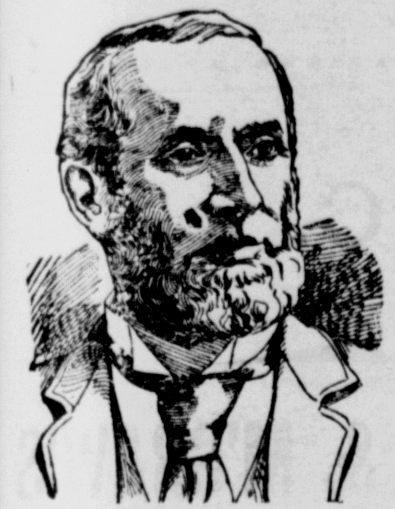

HOT CONVENTION FOR TOMORROW

McKinley's Friends Are Making a Strong Fight to Have Illinois Republican Delegates Instructed For Their Man—Cullom, Allison and Reed Men Opposed.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., April 28.—Senator Shelby M. Cullom is in the fight for the presidential nomination to stay. He said to himself, "I have written no letter of withdrawal and shall write none," he said. "I am in the struggle to win or lose and desire that my friends of this state and others clearly understand my position."

Never before in the memory of the oldest politicians has there been so much excitement and interest in a state convention in Illinois as there is over the one to be held here tomorrow. Already the town is overrun with delegates, office-seekers and their backers.

The chief interest seems to center on the presidential question. A movement is on foot among the friends of William

McKinley, Jr., to have the convention adopt resolutions instructing the delegates at large to vote for McKinley as soon as the convention is called to order. Senator Cullom's friends are of course bitterly opposed to this, as also are those favoring Allison and Reed. What the outcome will be no man, not even the leaders themselves, can tell.

NEGOTIATIONS PROGRESSING.

England Has Received Another Note From the United States.

LONDON, April 28.—The first lord of the treasury, Mr. A. J. Balfour, replying to Sir William Vernon Harcourt, the Liberal leader, said in the house of commons that arrangements for a condition of arbitration with respect to Venezuela and other questions are matters which Great Britain and the United States had in view during the recent negotiations. Mr. Balfour added that the last communication from the United States arrived on Friday last and was now under consideration.

Continuing, Mr. Balfour said that the government would deal with both the general question of arbitration and also with the special question connected with Venezuela, and it was confidently hoped that by patience and tact on both sides a peaceful and satisfactory solution of the matters would be attained.

TURKEY BROUGHT TO TIME.

A U. S. War Vessel Telegraphed For and Knapp Was Freed.

CONSTANTINOPLE, April 28.—The Rev. George P. Knapp, American missionary who has been expelled from Bitlis by the Turkish authorities, without trial, on the charge of having incited Armenians to rebel against Turkish rule, was surrendered to the United States consul at Alexandretta.

It was the intention of Turkey to put him on a vessel for Europe, thus expelling him from the country. United States Charge D'Affaires Riddle sent for the United States cruiser Marblehead at Mercina to go to Alexandretta to prevent the missionary's expulsion and the port promptly ordered Knapp released.

UNION'S STUDENTS NOT BARRED.

New York Presbytery Defies Injunction of General Assembly.

NEW YORK, April 28.—The meeting of the New York presbytery, for the purpose of voting on the report of the committee on the minutes of the general assembly, proved to be the liveliest session that that body has held in a long time. The committee consists of Rev. Dr. John C. Bliss, Dr. W. W. Atterbury and Geo. H. Hyde.

A year ago the presbytery asked the general assembly for advice in the matter of receiving candidates for the ministry. The general assembly instructed and enjoined the presbytery from receiving under its care for licensure students who are pursuing, or purpose to pursue, their studies in theological seminaries respecting whose teaching the general assembly disavows responsibility. This was aimed at Union Theological seminary.

The report of the committee says that "it seems to us that the general assembly exceeds its constitutional powers and infringes upon the inherent rights of the presbytery, which are specially reserved to it by our constitution," in the matter.

After a hot debate the statement of Rev. Dr. John Hall was adopted as a substitute, in which he says that the presbytery desires to report respectfully to the general assembly that it receives ministers from other presbyteries satisfied of their acceptance of the standards of the church "and that it is the presbytery's intention to apply the same principles in the preservation of scriptural doctrines to all applicants for license," and will "not exclude from application for license students who give evident assurance of their loyalty to the standards of the church."

SPORTING NOTES.

The East End Team Are Getting Into Shape.

The Columbia baseball team, of East End, are practicing daily, and promise to have one of the strongest aggregations in the city before the season is far advanced, and expect to play their first game with Salem at that place on Thursday week. It is more than probable that they will take the grounds that have been offered them near the Flint mill, in East End, and will fix them up, as it will take but a small amount of work to put them in shape to be played on.

The meeting held at the city hall this evening for the purpose of organizing the pottery league, will doubtless be well attended, judging from the present interest displayed in the national game.

The Washington correspondent of the Sporting Life says: "Mercer is apparently again the Mercer of '94, and is hitting well." The New York correspondent of the same paper says: "Dad Clark pitched a great game, but Win Mercer also pitched a good game, and was finely supported by the Senators."

There was a great deal of disappointment among the local fans last night when it was announced that it had rained in Pittsburgh, and the game was postponed, and many of the sports of the city are a few dollars better off than had the game been played. Some one started the report around the city yesterday afternoon that Cleveland was ahead at the end of the fifth inning by a score of four to one. A would-be sport got hold of it, and rushing into an uptown store explained to a crowd of eager ones how he was always on the "inside," and told them the story, stating that he knew the man who received the message. He happened to be present when the scores were announced and was asked for an explanation, which he gave by saying that "they couldn't have played enough innings to make a game," thus showing how much he knew about baseball.

The Rovers football club had their pictures taken at the ball ground on Saturday last.

The Lotus club are willing to cross bats with any social club in town, and are particularly desirous of meeting the Alvin club, who have recently achieved fame by winning the first game they played this season.

The white barbers would like to meet the Alvin baseball club after they have wiped up the ground with the colored members of the "profess."

The Our Boys baseball club will meet at city hall tomorrow evening at 7:30 o'clock and organize for the season. It is desired that there be a full attendance, as business of importance will be transacted.

Those who never read the advertisements in their newspapers miss more than they presume. Jonathan Kenison, of Bolan, Worth company, Iowa, who had been troubled with rheumatism in his back, arms and shoulders, read an item in his paper about how a prominent German citizen of Ft. Madison had been cured. He procured the same medicine, and to use his own words: "It cured me right up." He also says: "A neighbor and his wife were both sick in bed with rheumatism. Their boy was over to my house and said they were so bad he had to do the cooking. I told him of Chamberlain's Pain Balm and how it had cured me; he got a bottle and it cured them up in a week. Fifty-cent bottles for sale by A. H. Bulger, druggist."

A New Departure.

The Pennsylvania lines have introduced uniformed Parcel Porters at Jersey City to look after the comfort of all arriving and departing passengers. Their services will be gratis, and they will accompany passengers (if desired) between Cortlandt street ferry, New York City, and the American Line pier, Sixth avenue elevated railroad, and the Central railroad of New Jersey station; also between Desbrosses street ferry, New York City, and the Ninth avenue elevated railroad. They will be in attendance from 6 a. m. until midnight every day, and when accompanying passengers will carry parcels and handle baggage.

Have You Had the Grip?

If you have, you probably need a reliable medicine like Foley's Honey and Tar to heal your lungs and stop the racking cough incidental to this disease.

Improved Bloomers.

A crowd of girls, near the North Side chapel, are interested in football, and not possessing bloomers, had to resort to their brothers' wardrobes to supply their wants. They had a time for quite a while kicking the pigskin, but finally tired of their sport. Evidently being struck on the figure they cut in men's clothing, they proceeded down town and paraded the streets, but became frightened at the searching glances bestowed upon them by pedestrians and concluded it would be wise to return home.

"Wherdygitemall."

This was the query of one street car conductor to the other this morning, as the vehicle passed by, with not a single or married passenger aboard.

Women go on, heedlessly ignoring the dangers that lie right in the path of their thoughtlessness. They neglect little warnings until they get used to them. The warnings become louder and louder, and still they do not heed them. Their sickness increases like a snowball rolling down hill. The sickness comes on gradually, and they get used to it gradually, but it ruins their lives just the same. One woman in a hundred, perhaps, is perfectly healthy. Sometimes her weakness is inherited, sometimes acquired by carelessness. In every case, care and Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription will give her new life and strength and vitality. It will fill out the hollows in her cheeks, bring color to her lips, brighten her eyes, and make her really and truly a woman. The "Favorite Prescription" is of inestimable value at three stages in the lives of every woman—when the girl becomes a woman, when the woman becomes a mother, and when the mother becomes incapable of maternity. It is the only medicine now before the public for woman's peculiar ailments, adapted to her delicate organization by a regularly graduated physician—an experienced and skilled specialist in these maladies. It cannot do harm in any condition of the system. Its sales exceed the combined sales of all other medicines for women.

Every woman should have and read Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser, a great book of a thousand pages, profusely illustrated which will be sent free on receipt of 21 one-cent stamps, to pay for mailing only. Address, World's Dispensary Medical Association, No. 663 Main Street, Buffalo, N. Y.

Gave a Dinner.

Miss Hannah Walton, residing near Beaver Falls, gave a dinner party to her lady friends yesterday as a farewell, preparatory to her wedding, which takes place on Thursday at her home. Mrs. Henry Goodwin and Miss Jennie Walton, of this city, were in attendance at the feast. The dining room was handsomely decorated with flowers, and the repast was heartily enjoyed by all the guests. Miss Hannah Walton formerly taught school in this city and is well known.

Our better halves say they could not keep house without Chamberlain's Cough remedy. It is used in more than half the homes in Leeds. Sims Bros., Leeds, Iowa. This shows the esteem in which that remedy is held where it has been sold for years and is well known. Mothers have learned that there is nothing so good for colds, croup and whooping cough, that it cures these ailments quickly and permanently, and that it is pleasant and safe for children to take. Twenty-five and 50 cent bottles for sale by A. H. Bulger, druggist.

Every Man Who Would Know the Grand Truths, the Plain Facts, the New Discoveries of Medical Science as Applied to Married Life, Who Would Atone for Past Errors and Avoid Future Pitfalls, Should Secure the Wonderful Little Book Called "Complete Manhood, and How to Attain It."

"Here at last is information from a high medical source that must work wonders with this generation of men, bubbled with joy. The book fully describes a method by which to obtain full vigor and manly power. A method by which to end all unnatural habits on the system."

To cure nervousness, lack of self-control, despondency, etc.
To exchange a faded and worn nature for one of brightness, buoyancy and power.
To cure forever effects of excesses, overwork, worry, etc.

To give full strength, development and tone to every portion and organ of the body.
Age no barrier. Failure impossible. Two thousand references.

The book is purely medical and scientific, useless to curiosity seekers, invaluable to men who need it.
A despairing man, who had applied to us, soon after wrote:
"Well, I tell you that first day is one I'll never forget. I just bubbled with joy. I wanted to hug everybody and tell them my old self had died yesterday, and my new self was born today. Why didn't you tell me when I first wrote that I would find it this way?"

And another thus:
"If you dumped a cart load of gold at my feet it would not bring such gladness into my life as your method has done."

SPORTING NOTES.

The East End Team Are Getting Into Shape.

The Columbia baseball team, of East End, are practicing daily, and promise to have one of the strongest aggregations in the city before the season is far advanced, and expect to play their first game with Salem at that place on Thursday week. It is more than probable that they will take the grounds that have been offered them near the flint mill, in East End, and will fix them up, as it will take but a small amount of work to put them in shape to be played on.

The meeting held at the city hall this evening for the purpose of organizing the pottery league, will doubtless be well attended, judging from the present interest displayed in the national game.

The Washington correspondent of the Sporting Life says: "Mercer is apparently again the Mercer of '94, and is hitting well." The New York correspondent of the same paper says: "Dad Clark pitched a great game, but Win Mercer also pitched a good game, and was finely supported by the Senators."

There was a great deal of disappointment among the local fans last night when it was announced that it had rained in Pittsburgh, and the game was postponed, and many of the sports of the city are a few dollars better off than had the game been played. Some one started the report around the city yesterday afternoon that Cleveland was ahead at the end of the fifth inning by a score of four to one. A would-be sport got hold of it, and rushing into an uptown store explained to a crowd of eager ones how he was always on the "inside," and told them the story, stating that he knew the man who received the message. He happened to be present when the scores were announced and was asked for an explanation, which he gave by saying that "they couldn't have played enough innings to make a game," thus showing how much he knew about baseball.

The Rovers football club had their pictures taken at the ball ground on Saturday last.

The Lotus club are willing to cross bats with any social club in town, and are particularly desirous of meeting the Alvin club, who have recently achieved fame by winning the first game they played this season.

The white barbers would like to meet the Alvin baseball club after they have wiped up the ground with the colored members of the "profess." The Our Boys baseball club will meet at city hall tomorrow evening at 7:30 o'clock and organize for the season. It is desired that there be a full attendance, as business of importance will be transacted.

Those who never read the advertisements in their newspapers miss more than they presume. Jonathan Kenison, of Bolan, Worth company, Iowa, who had been troubled with rheumatism in his back, arms and shoulders, read an item in his paper about how a prominent German citizen of Ft. Madison had been cured. He procured the same medicine, and to use his own words: "It cured me right up." He also says: "A neighbor and his wife were both sick in bed with rheumatism. Their boy was over to my house and said they were so bad he had to do the cooking. I told him of Chamberlain's Pain Balm and how it had cured me; he got a bottle and it cured them up in a week. Fifty cent bottles for sale by A. H. Bulger, druggist."

A New Departure.

The Pennsylvania lines have introduced uniformed Parcel Porters at Jersey City to look after the comfort of all arriving and departing passengers. Their services will be gratis, and they will accompany passengers (if desired) between Cortlandt street ferry, New York City, and the American Line pier, Sixth avenue elevated railroad, and the Central railroad of New Jersey station; also between Desbrosses street ferry, New York City, and the Ninth avenue elevated railroad. They will be in attendance from 6 a. m., until midnight every day, and when accompanying passengers will carry parcels and handle baggage.

Have You Had the Grip?

Improvised Bloomers.

A crowd of girls, near the North Side chapel, are interested in football, and not possessing bloomers, had to resort to their brothers' wardrobes to supply their wants. They had a time for quite a while kicking the pigskin, but finally tired of their sport. Evidently being struck on the figure they cut in men's clothing, they proceeded down town and paraded the streets, but became frightened at the searching glances bestowed upon them by pedestrians and concluded it would be wise to return home.
